WORK BEGUN ON SCHOOL BUILDING

CONTRACTS LET AMOUNT TO $55,665.

Building Contractors Will Push Work of Construction.

Work on the construction of our new school building was begun Monday afternoon, when Architect Jens Petersen and Building Contractor George Lather, both of Traversa City, arrived and began laying out the grounds.

The building will face Spruce street and be located with a 45-foot frontage and midway on the lot, 90 feet from Ogema and 90 feet from Ottawa streets, and 68 feet from Chestnut street.

The building will have a frontage of 180 feet and a depth of 124½ feet in the widest part. The height of the structure will be 41 feet above the ground.

Mr. Lathers who has the contract for constructing the building proper is a man of large experience in this class of work and well known in the western part of the state. He says that he is prepared to push the work and will have the building completed within the least possible time consistent with good work. He expects to move to Grayling with his family as soon as he is able to get suitable quarters.

The contract for the heating and ventilating plant is let to the Bryce Heating and Ventilating company of Toledo, Ohio. The plumbing contract was let to our local plumber, Frank Deckrow, who submitted the lowest bid for the work. The people of Grayling will be glad to know that this latter work was secured by Mr. Deckrow, in whom we have the utmost confidence for his workmanship and fair dealing.

According to the contracts the building complete will cost $55,665, and itemized as follows:

Building and material ..... $44,213
Heating and ventilating ..... 8,902
Plumbing ..... 2,550

$55,665

The building will be constructed of Rugbrick, with a rough and variegated surface. The interior is to be fire-proof wherever this is deemed important. A good sketch of the new building was published in the Avalanche in our issue of April 8th. We hope to present our readers with sketches of the floor plans at some future time.

HUBBARD HEAD ENTERTAINS FRIENDS.

Celebrates 40th Anniversary of Residence in Crawford County.

Good morning, Mr. Editor of the Crawford Avalanche:

Pardon me for a few minutes, for I have gotten myself into a strange land, and more so the task that I have fallen into. Hubbard Head, who has just celebrated the 40th anniversary of his arrival at Roscommon, Michigan on the fifth day of May, 1875, has asked me as a very warm friend of his (and I always have been) to write up the doings of the old friends and neighbors. I assure you that while I esteem it as a very great honor to me, it is a task that I feel that I cannot do justice to as it should be done to such a noble cause as it represents, and I think the first of its kind in good old Northern Michigan.

Mr. Head asked me to eat dinner with intimate friends, old soldiers of the war of '61 to '65 of which he was one, having enlisted in September, 1861, and re-enlisted in September, 1864. He was present at the surrender of Gen. Lee to Grant the ninth day of April, 1865, and the flag of truce came into his division which had the honor of receiving Lee's army's guns and all of their accoutrements.

They he also asked in the old settlers and farmers, and no one present was under 44 years old, that being the age of his own son. When they were all seated around the tables you could see who were the guests of honor. There was one ex-judge, one ex-prosecuting attorney, four lawyers, one minister, two ex-sheriffs, three ex-county treasurers, one supervisor, six ex-supervisors, one township clerk, six ex-township clerks and several justices of the peace.

After they were all seated about the tables and the good things were being passed around, some were heard to ask what kind of meat they were eating. Some said chicken but the preacher's wife spoke up and said, "No it is not chicken for chicken has several different colors of meat, only the breast being white and this is all white." One said, "I would really like to know what kind of meat this is, it's so good." Another says "My good friend, it is the cooking that makes it so good," and so it went on, everyone having some remark to make. One old resident from Crawford sat looking over the crowd and spoke right out in meeting and said "For the love of God, isn't this a great democratic gathering. Of course there were several to make some very appropriate remarks at this time, and by the way, there were several great story tellers, who got in their work every little while.

When they commenced to leave for their several homes, they all shook hands with Mr. and Mrs. Head, the most of them wishing the host and hostess forty years more in their good undertaking, and that they could live to eat dinner with them at that time, but they really hoped that he would not wait that long before he asked them to dinner again.

Mr. and Mrs. Head came to Michigan to see Mrs. Head's sister and Mr. Head to see his brother, forty-five years ago. The parties they went to see lived five miles south of Ewart, but there were no railroads there then and he went by the way of Grand Rapids, took the train to Morley, then the stage to Paris, and a private conveyance to within 3¼ miles of his brother's and that was the nearest they got their trunk. In 1875 Mr. Head came to Grayling on the fourth of May, stayed one month and went back to New York State. In November he came back and went to Houghton Lake and worked for Hall & Davis and helped to cut, draw and put into the lake timber off what is the Michelson farm now. That winter he earned money enough to bring his family to Roscommon. He got there on the fifth day of May, 1875, just at dark, and started from the town of Howellsville, N. Y., at 8:00 o'clock a. m. Now you can start from there at the same time and be in Roscommon at 3:40 the next morning. Mr. Head, with a family of six, came to Roscommon without friends or money and rented a house 12 by 18 to live in until he could earn money enough to take up a homestead. Work was quite scarce and hard to get, but he finally went to

NEW SYSTEM FOR U. S. VOLUNTEERS.

Michigan to Aid in Furnishing a Complete Division.

The war department at Washington is gradually working out the new mobilization system for Uncle Sam's volunteers.

In this scheme Michigan and Ohio are to furnish a complete division for field service. Michigan's part in this division requires her to furnish one more battery of artillery, two more troops of cavalry, and an aviation corps as part of the signal division.

The funds for this increase were provided by the present legislature in senate bill No. 239, file No. 186 introduced by Senator Ganssner and house bill No. 314, file No. 256, introduced by Representative Culver of Detroit. Provision was also made for completing the equipment of the state military reservation at Grayling, so that the whole brigade will be able to camp and maneuver there next August for the first time.

Along the same line of providing for future emergencies, the war department has suggested that Michigan number her regiments of infantry consecutively and general order No. 8, just issued by the adjutant general's department provides this change. Michigan sent 30 regiments of infantry into the Civil war, numbered from one to 30. Five regiments were sent by Michigan into the Spanish-American war, numbered 31, 32, 33, 34 and 35 respectively.

It is now proposed to number Michigan's three National Guard regiments so that what is now the third regiment, to which Company B. belongs, will hereafter be known as the Thirty-third Michigan infantry, and this new order requires changing the uniforms and equipment markings accordingly. Back of each regimental number will now be an actual service record, and the war department calculates this will have a good effect on the present and future membership in Michigan volunteers.

work on the section that run from Roscommon to the city of Pere Cheney, which at that time was the metropolis of Crawford county and two years later it was the county seat of Crawford county.

Telling the story in his own words from here he says: "On the first of November that year I had my $14.00 together and I homesteaded the north half of the south half of Sec. 24, T. 25 N. of R. 2 W. On the third day of March, 1876, we moved out on our homestead without a door, window or floor in what we called a house, and for three years Mrs. Head and I packed our provisions on our backs by section lines. Two years later a man named Smith came in and homesteaded on Sec. 2, Town 24 North, 2 West. His son came with him and before he got his log cabin he died and we scoured the country and got one team to draw the corpse and the rest of us all footed it. That is the way it was then.

"It took six years for us to get started and for 34 years since then I have never said no to any man with a family who was trying to make him a home and come to me without a dollar but wanted a cow and would pay for her just as soon as he could. I said to him, 'Go into my flock, pick out a cow and then another and tonight you milk until you find one that suits you and in the morning take her home with you.'

"Today we have American sweet chestnuts, 25 of them growing and in bearing, walnuts, butternuts, shell-bark hickorynuts right on the Jack pine plains. By the way, I have been for 40 years a booster for Northern Michigan.

Today I claim to be the only old soldier in Michigan that can show a 100-acre field of new seeding of red clover. 40 acres has been plowed the second time and the other 60 is the first plowing and a man could feel proud and happy if he had as nice a field of clover on land that cost him $200.00 an acre, in fact, I claim it to be the nicest field of 100 acres of red clover in the whole state of Michigan, and as an old soldier and farmer I beg to ever remain,

Very sincerely yours,
HUBBARD HEAD.

Do It Now.

For it gives to life a savor
And it makes you stronger, braver,
And it gives you heart and spirit to the end.

If he earns your praise, bestow it;
If you like him let him know it;

She stopped him with a quick gesture. Her eyes were smoldering. "Where is he? Gone away with her? Go and look, do."

"They're in the hall. I shall take her home, never fear. I fancy he's trying to explain your misguiding—"

She turned on him furiously. "Are you lecturing me? What a tempest in a teapot."

"Lydia's as good as gold. She—"

"Then take her home at once," sneered Yvonne. "This is no place for her."

Frederic paled. "You're not trying to say that my father would—God Lord, Yvonne, you must be crazy! Why, that is impossible! If—I thought—"

He clinched his fists and glared over his shoulder, missing the queer little smile that fitted across her face.

"You do love her, then," she said, her voice suddenly soft and caressing. He stared at her in complete bewilderment.

"I—I—Lord, you gave me a shock!"

He pressed his hand across his moist forehead. "It can't be so. Why, the very thought of it—"

"I suppose I shall have to apologize to Lydia," said she, calmly. "Your father will expect it of me, and I shall obey. Well, I am sorry. How does it sound, coming from me? I am sorry, Lydia. Do say it prettily!"

"I don't understand you at all, Yvonne. I adore you, and yet, by heaven, I—I actually believe I hated you just now. Listen to me: I've been treating Lydia vilely for a long, long time, but—she's the finest, best, dearest girl in the world. You—even you, Yvonne—shall not utter a word against—"

A long, reverberating roll of thunder ending in an ear-splitting crash that seemed no farther away than the window casement behind them brought sharp exclamations of terror from the lips of the two women. The men, appalled, started to their feet.

Her Objection.

"So Maude has come back from the front as a Red Cross nurse?"

"Yes, indeed. She said if she did all the horrid things they wanted her to do, she would have been a perfect sight whenever the photographers for the papers came around. So she quit."

Heir, Not a Gale.

The guide suddenly halted the party of Americans.

"Ah, there comes the heir to the throne," he said, removing his hat as a royal equage appeared.

Jobless Turn to Gold Mining.

How to provide for the army of the unemployed, thrown out of work because of the business depression resulting from the European war, is naturally a much more serious problem in the British colonies than anywhere else outside of the continent of Europe. The city of Edmonton, Canada, has found at least a partial solution, and one that puts no added burden on either the taxpayer or the charitable. The bars of the Saskatchewan river, which runs through the city, contain much gold dust of the very fine flour variety. With the outbreak of the European war and the necessity to provide as much available work for men whom war conditions might throw out of employment, the city council turned to the gold-mining industry, which offered returns right within a hundred yards of the city's main streets. A number of experienced mining men who had settled in the city after the Klondike rush of '98 offered to act for a while as instructors to the uninitiated, and some 200 men soon went to work. The average cleanup per man for the months of August and September was about $1.50 to $2 a day.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

SWEDEN.

The managers of the Carnegie hero fund have awarded four prizes this year to persons who have distinguished themselves by saving human lives. The beneficiaries are: 1. Gunhild Borgstrom of Trollhattan, fourteen years old, who saved a four-year-old boy from drowning July 2, 1914. Her prize was a silver watch with an inscription. 2. Hedvig Edlund of Geric, fifteen years old, who saved a two-year-old girl from being run over by a train June 13, 1913. She received a gold watch with an inscription and $400 in cash for taking a course at a business college. 3. Per Olof Skoglund of Fritsla, thirteen years old, who had performed a deed of the same kind as the last mentioned, November 4, 1914. His prize was a silver watch with an inscription and $400 in cash to enable him to make thorough preparation for the carpenter's trade. 4. Johanna Kristina Bjork of Hagen, Gagne parish, a fifty-year-old widow, who had saved the life of another woman who had fallen through the ice November 26, 1914.

Dr. John Reensterna has given an account of a medical discovery which he has made. It is serum for combating gonorrhea, one of the most troublesome and most disgusting of diseases. He tested his remedy at the hospitals of Stockholm before bringing it before the members of his profession. The serum is obtained from goats. In most cases it effected a complete cure. But in some instances there was a relapse after the patient had improved somewhat. The inventor had also tried his remedy with success on children suffering from gonorrhea of the eyes at the time of birth. The medical authorities of the country claim that if the remedy is as effective as its inventor avers, it will prove a great boon to suffering humanity.

Captives of war in Germany and Russia send letters, money orders, and packages between the two countries by way of Sweden. There is a most striking disproportion between the number of money orders passing each way. Russia sends about 1,500 postal money orders a day to Russian captives in Germany, while the number of orders of the same kind passing from Germany to German captives in Russia is only about 100 a day.

While a miner at Sala was fixing the hinges on a trapdoor in the roof of a house the ladder on which he was standing slipped, and as he struck out with his hand to support himself his wedding ring caught on a nail, and the man's finger was pulled off at the middle joint. He was taken to the hospital, and it was found necessary to amputate the finger at the root.

The receipts of the co-operative packing house at Tomellilla for the year 1914, were about $750,000. The members of the company brought 37,015 hogs weighing 2,478 tons. The business of the company was injured by the war. The members of the company received 14 cents a pound for dressed hogs and nine and a half cents for live weight.

Articles of incorporation have been completed for the so-called Swedish-Russian-Aasiatic company, the aim of which is to carry on trade between the countries indicated by the name. The capital stock shall be somewhere between $80,000 and $640,000, and the amount of each share is to be $1,350. The headquarters of the company will be in Stockholm.

Nine cases of epidemic inflammation of the brain have occurred at the barracks of the Halland regiment at Halmstad. Three of the patients are already dead. All public gatherings have been prohibited by the authorities.

The net profit of the new street car company of Stockholm for the year 1914 was almost $700,000, and the stockholders received a dividend of 12 per cent.

Malmö is practically sure of having an airship station.

The Malmö office of the national association for checking emigration was visited by 532 persons during the first quarter of this year. The number of properties offered for sale was 84, and 127 different parties wanted to buy real estate. It was known that sixteen estate deals were closed, by means of information furnished at this office. Of the persons calling at this office several were Swedes returning from abroad, mostly from America, for the purpose of staying in Sweden for good.

The department has started nationwide investigations for the purpose of finding out whether the supply of potatoes is so limited that it would be wise for the government to fix a maximum price before speculators corner the market in order to bleed the public.

A tenant farmer named Danmas, at Kvamaryd, has reached the advanced age of ninety-seven years, but he is still chopping wood and doing chores on the farm every day.

DENMARK.

Under a decree just promulgated by the minister of the interior, Danish millers must extract 64 per cent of the contents of the grain when handling rye and 68 per cent when grinding wheat, or respective recoveries of 141 and 150 pounds of flour from each 220 pounds of grain milled. All millers in the kingdom are required to make a statement of their operations every 14 days, in order that the authorities may keep in touch with the situation. Each sack of rye flour or of mixed rye and wheat flour that leaves a mill must be so marked as to indicate the amount of home-grown grain used in its manufacture and the quality of foreign rye or wheat employed.

The Danish inner mission worked energetically last winter. The great war scare was favorable to religious work, and revival meetings were held in all parts of the country. Those who are conducting the movement complain that Copenhagen is turning out to be a disappointment. During the early stages of the war the minds were ready to listen to the preachers, and some evening meetings were well attended. But the great mass of the people remained in a serious mood only for a short time, and now those who are interested in religious work in the capital are sorry because they did not hammer more vigorously while the iron was hot.

The Danish steamer Nidaros, 531 tons net, has been captured by a German warship in the North sea and taken into port at the island of Sylt, one of the North Frisian islands. The Nidaros sailed from Aarhus, Denmark, for England with a cargo of agricultural products.

Before the war the great North German cities controlled the fruit trade of northern Europe. Now this very profitable trade is drifting to Copenhagen. One cargo after another is unloaded, the bulk of the goods being oranges from Spain and Italy.

The Lund factories in Copenhagen are selling bombs to one of the belligerents for about $2,500 a day, and the market value of the stocks of the company has advanced 50 per cent since the beginning of the war.

All women, regardless of their station in life, are now entitled to vote in Denmark. The Danish riksdag, adopted the new Danish constitution. All women, including servants previously barred, may now vote.

FINLAND.

Russia seems determined to blot out the last trace of the independence of Finland during the war. The free grand duchy guaranteed by Czar Alexander I is to be completely swallowed up by the empire. The whole country is virtually in a state of siege. Russian laws governing the press, public meetings and societies are applied to Finland. The government is to be changed so as to conform to the Russian pattern. Public officials are to be educated in Russia. The independent money and customs system of Finland are to be abolished. The Greek Catholic church is to be made supreme in the Protestant Finland. Personal persecution flourishes as never before. Many Finnish patriots, including the greatest statesman of the country, the venerable president of the senate, has been deported to the most desolate section of Siberia. Men who never took any part in any kind of political agitation are accused of conspiracy and crimes, their houses are searched, and they themselves are thrown into prison. Finnish newspapers are heavily fined or entirely suppressed on account of the most innocent remarks. And in the midst of all these things the Finlanders remain loyal to Russia. More than that; they are adhering to a policy of peaceful resistance which they declare can never be broken by means of violence. They trust that the future will reward their patience.

The Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company says it is stated that the emperor of Russia has decided to re-establish the Finnish army with the same constitution as previous to 1918. It is said that the emperor will take this action on the advice of Grand Duke Nicholas, commander in chief of the Russian forces, who has been impressed by the brilliant strategic work done by Finnish officers serving in the Russian army during the present war.

All Finnish steamers have been ordered held in whatever ports they now are in as the result of the sinking in the Baltic sea of the Finnish steamer Frack. Confirmation was received of the saving of the Frack's crew. It is reported that several submarines now are operating in the Baltic sea.

NORWAY.

A wooden church building is to be put up at Randsfjord railway station for the benefit of the people employed in factories in the neighborhood. The community has a population of about 2,000. The site of the proposed church is very beautifully located. A graveyard is to be opened close by. The name of the new church will be Randsfjord chapel, and there will be 25 services a year.

The crews of the Norwegian bark Oscar and Eva were landed at Bury Island, Scotland, by the steamship Anna, flying the Danish flag. A German submarine overhauled the barks about 170 miles northeast of the Longstone and allowed their crews ten minutes to board the lifeboats. The submarines then shelled the abandoned vessels. Subsequently the German submarine stopped the Danish steamer Anna and ordered her to take aboard the crews of the Oscar and the Eva. The barks were bound for a Scottish port.

An Appeal to Students

By REV. HOWARD W. POPE
Superintendent of Men, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago

TEXT—Study to shew thyself approved unto God.—II Timothy 2:15.

Mr. Gladstone was once asked what was the leading question, England at that time. He replied that there was but one leading question at that time, or at any time, and that was the question of one's relation to the Lord Jesus Christ. He then went on to say that the brainiest men were those who paid most attention to this subject. "I have known personally all the men who have been prominent in England during the last fifty years, in business, politics, or literature, and of the sixty most prominent men, fifty-four have been professing Christians."

If Mr. Gladstone was right, and if the question of one's relation to Christ is the leading question which confronts a student, it is very important that he settle it early. Indeed this question lies at the basis of all education. What is the real object of education? It is to increase one's capacity to know God, and to make him known to others. This is what education is for, what life is for. "And this is life eternal that they should know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent" (John 17:3).

The keenest delight of which we are capable comes to us from knowing God. When the devout astronomer Kepler made his great discovery, he exclaimed, "O God, I think thy thoughts after thee." There is no greater joy than this, unless it be that of seeing God's character reproduced in our lives. If this be true, then education is not optional with us, but imperative. We are bound to cultivate every talent which we possess, because each is an avenue through which God can reveal himself to us. We are bound to open every window of our soul "towards Jerusalem," and let in the light of God's glorious truth.

No wonder the Great Teacher said, "Take my yoke upon you and learn of me . . . and ye shall find rest unto your souls." Young people have souls as well as minds, and the former need training quite as much as the latter. It is possible to develop the mind at the expense of the soul, and to leave the spiritual nature in a dwarfed and stunted condition. Indeed, it is not possible for a student to go forth with a well-trained mind and irreproachable morals, and still fall far short of being a whole man, because he does not know God. "Having no hope, and without God in the world." The Greek student does not need to be told that "without God" means "atheism."

The superior advantages which students enjoy make doubly important that they should become acquainted early with the Lord Jesus. Education enlarges one's capacity to see and foresee, to do and to undo. It multiplies his influence, and thus increases his responsibility, since the welfare of others depends upon his action and attitude. No educated person can possibly live a Christless life without leading others to do the same. This consideration should have great weight. A professor in a large military school recently told the writer that it was the thought of his influence with the boys which led him to decide for God and put himself on record as a Christian.

III. Again, the peculiar temptations which confront a student make an acquaintance with Jesus indispensable. Among these may be mentioned: (a) The freedom from home restraint. The strong, steady hand of the father and the indescribable influence of the mother is lacking. There is no younger brother or sister to be considered, not even the restraining influence of someone else's sister. The consequence is that one grows selfish and comes to think that all the world was made for him.

(b) The petty vices which prevail so commonly among students. By the side of the writer in college sat the valiantest of the class. He was a well-disposed man, but he had no religious principles. When others drank he was not strong enough to refuse. After graduation he studied law and became one of the most brilliant and promising lawyers in the state. Temptations now grew stronger and more frequent, and having no acquaintance with him "who is able to save to the uttermost," and "able to keep you from falling," he soon lost his standing and business, and died a common drunkard.

(c) Not the least of the dangers which confront a student is the temptation to doubt. He lives in an atmosphere of inquiry and criticism. Old theories are being laid aside and new facts are constantly being discovered. Possibly he sees some of his instructors, for whose ability he has the highest respect, utterly indifferent to the claims of the Gospel. Literature is full of covert sneers at religion. He is just at the age when his critical faculties are being developed, and he begins to question everything which he once believed. Add to this the natural willingness of the heart to have it so, and you have a combination of circumstances calculated to shake the strongest faith. Some, indeed, think it a sign of superior intellect to doubt, but this is a mistake. It is sometimes a sign of spiritual blindness, and often of moral obliquity. A large part of the skepticism of students is of the heart rather than of the head.

A Too-Thick Oil! A Too-Thin Oil! A Non-Durable Oil! A Crummy Oil!

Lubricating Troubles—and their cure!

The Standard Oil Company is making a motor oil that has done away with all common lubricating troubles. Seven years ago their experts placed this new oil tested oil on the market. 1,100 gallons were sold the first year. Then motorists found out. 1909's demand was for 335,000 gallons—1910's was for 1,118,400. In 1914 nearly 7,000,000 gallons were used in the Middle West alone. Polarine has gained in sales an average of a million gallons yearly simply because its use eliminated the annoyance and delay incident to unsuitable lubricating oils. Hundreds of thousands of good cars have been saved from the scrap heap by its use. Use it in your motor. See what it does. Polarine maintains the correct lubricating body at every motor speed and temperature. It is produced by experts, with the help of perfect facilities, in the largest plant of its kind in the world.

Canada is Calling You to her Rich Wheat Lands

She extends to Americans a hearty invitation to settle on her FREE Homestead lands of 160 acres each or secure some of the low priced lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

This year wheat is higher but Canadian land just as cheap, so the opportunity is more attractive than ever. Canada wants you to help to feed the world by tilling some of her soil—land similar to that which during many years has averaged 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre. Think what you can make with wheat around $1 a bushel and land so easy to get. Wonderful yields also of Oats, Barley and Flax. Mixed farming is fully as profitable an industry as grain growing.

The Government this year is asking farmers to put increased acreage into grain. Military service is not compulsory in Canada but there is a great demand for farm labor to replace the many young men who have volunteered for service. ## IMPORTANT

I have said ever since coming to Grayling if I could get a good share of the trade that is given to catalogue houses from our home people, I would be content. I am unable to state just what portion I have been able to reach, but think I have reached a goodly portion. Bear in mind I am going to keep a digging as a hustler. Considering the time and chance I have had I am quite satisfied with the results. Take it from me, I am trying hard and am going to keep on trying to supply my customers. Give me equal chances and I will not ask you to give me the money ten days before you get the article and you will bear with me that it will be hard to beat me out. So far I have been unable to find where anyone has bettered themselves.

Times have greatly changed the past ten years in merchandising and I sometimes think we have all got it in the neck, from the groceryman, dry goods, jeweler, druggists and hardware, and in general all except the hand to mouth game. Boarding houses and hotels have not as yet been effected so far and I am so glad for them, at least at this writing I am greatly in hopes home people will not get the habit of sending away for their meals. That would be still a bigger joke or conundrum.

Yours until later,

FRANK DREESE.

Personal Pride

As an artist prides himself on the completion of each picture, so do we pride ourselves on the completion of each APPERSON car.

This is because the APPERSON product reflects the highest standard of motor car construction and because Apperson Brothers feel satisfied that no other automobile manufacturer offers anything superior to the APPERSON 1915 model.

And it is a feeling honorably earned. We have been making cars for twenty-two years, and you will agree with us that we are warranted in making this statement.

If experience is the greatest teacher in life then we should receive first consideration from the prospective purchaser. Twenty-two year of labor entitle us to this recognition.

The APPERSON Six cylinder, five passenger at $1485, is the first high quality Six to sell under fifteen hundred dollars. And this is also true of our seven passenger car at $1585. See the cars today and convince yourself of these claims.

Do not forget each APPERSON is 95 per cent "home made." Every important unit—like the motor, clutch, transmission, front and rear axles—is made in our own shops. Ask us to prove APPERSON superiority.

The bonds for the new school house were sold Wednesday of last week to the Detroit Trust company at 5% interest, with a premium of $100.00. Owing to the bonding law passed by the last State legislature, we are compelled to pay at least 1/2% more interest than we would have been able to sell the bonds for before. Had our bonds been on the market a few weeks earlier we would have been able to obtain the lower rate. Foreign bonds at 7% are now allowed to come into Michigan and are taxed 1/2% for the first year only. Therefore low rate bonds are no longer a temptation to Michigan bond investors.

The Skovgaard Concert Co. will give an entertainment in this city Friday evening, June 11, under the auspices of the Danish Young People's society. This famous concert company needs no introduction to the people of Grayling, this being their third appearance in our city. The company consists of the famous Danish violinist, Axel Skovgaard, pianist, Miss McClung, and a contralto singer, she being new on their program this season. Mr. Skovgaard is coming here after completing a tour of the western states and from here is going to Detroit. He writes that it is a pleasure for him to again play in Grayling, and it is to be sincerely hoped that all will show their appreciation of good music by coming to hear him. Do not miss it.

Figures compiled in London show that line officers in the fighting armies run six times as much chance of getting shot as do the staff officers, and that in spite of this fact the line officer has one-seventh as much chance of getting a ribbon, medal or other decoration for bravery.

Why be neutral? If you favor war, dig a trench in yard, fill it half full of water, crawl into it, and stay there for a day or two without anything to eat, get a lunatic to shoot at you with a brace of revolvers and a machine gun, and you will have something just as good, and you will save your country a great deal of expense.—Appeal to Reason.

The beautiful drama of the story of Damon and Pythias will be shown in moving pictures at the Opera house next Thursday evening, May 20th. These pictures will show the court of Dionysius, the tyrant of ancient Syracuse, who was provoked to anger by Damon, one of the prominent senators of his court. Damon was sentenced to death. Pythias' pleadings with the tyrant upon the throne obtained for Damon a respite, that he might see his family once more before his execution, and Pythias was thrown into prison as a hostage for Damon. The fair daughter of the king who was in love with Pythias urged him to break his bonds and escape, but he remained true to Damon.

The directors of the Grayling Fish Hatchery club met at the Mershon cottage on the North branch, near Lovells yesterday. At this time it was decided to recommend an increase in capital stock of $5,000. This matter will be put up to the members for election soon.

Following non-resident visitors registered at the fish hatchery during the past week: W. J. Hunnaker, president of the Michigan Fish commission, J. M. Morley, C. M. Greenway, J. B. Peter, G. W. From many quarters come words of praise for the good work she is doing. Miss Nelson is a good, clean, Christian lady who has visited many quarters of the globe and spent the larger part of her life in her chosen profession—administering to the afflicted. She is enthusiastic in her work and goes at it with a thoroughness that but few health destroying elements escape her notice and remedies are suggested for their correction.

The fore part of this week has been spent in the rural districts of Grayling, South Branch and Beaver Creek townships, where Miss Nelson visited the schools and many homes.

Tomorrow she will begin an inspection of the pupils of the Grayling schools. Miss Nelson will be assisted in this work by Dr. Insley. Reports will be made of the condition of each pupil and those who are found to be suffering from diseases will be reported to the parents. Friday night she will talk to the nurses at Mercy hospital.

Saturday at 2:00 o'clock p. m. Miss Nelson will speak before the meeting of the Grangers at the G. A. R. hall. The public is invited to attend this meeting.

Thursday evening, May 20th, Miss Nelson will address a meeting at the Feldhauser school house, and the people of this vicinity are all urged to be present. Friday evening, May 21, she will talk before the Maccabee lodge.

The week beginning May 24th will be spent in holding meetings and visiting the schools in Frederic, Maple Forest and Lovells townships.

The committee in charge of Miss Nelson's work are arranging for a final meeting on Sunday, May 30th, when she will give an outline of the work done while in the county.

Miss Nelson has been in consultation with the local health officer and has also been doing some personal investigation of conditions in Grayling and other parts of the county and she says that it is her intention to handle her talk "without gloves" and tell us some things that may hurt our local pride but that in the interest of good, healthy men, women and children, she feels it her duty to do so.

Miss Nelson strongly advocates a permanent county nurse, hired at a salary to work in the interest of good health throughout the county the year around. She considers the expense of maintaining such a nurse but a trifle when consideration is taken of the great good that may be accomplished, and this at a great saving to many families.

KILLED AND HURT BY ROADS IN 1914

STATE RAILROAD COMMISSION HAS COMPILED REPORT FOR YEAR.

ACCIDENTS NUMBER 2,383

Three Hundred and Thirty-Two Deaths Result of Which Fifty-Six Were Employees.—Trespassers Are Greatest Sufferers.

Lansing—There were 2,383 accidents on Michigan railroads during 1914.

In these accidents 332 persons were killed and 2,554 injured, according to the railroad commission figures. The compilation of which has just been finished. Of the people killed, 56 were employees, 13 were passengers and 149 were trespassers. Others, unclassified, totaled 114. Of those injured, 1,052 were employees, 894 were passengers, 174 were trespassers, and 464 unclassified.

The largest number of employees killed met death by being struck by locomotives or cars. In this manner 21 lives were snuffed out, while but 12 employees were killed in collisions. Seven died from the effects of falling from locomotives or cars; four were killed in derailments; four while coupling or uncoupling cars, and two from defects or failures of roadway or equipment.

Seven passengers met death in collisions; two in jumping off trains and two more were struck by locomotives or cars. One died as a result of injuries received in getting off the cars and one other was killed by falling from a train.

The chief item in the killed among the unclassified are those who met deaths at grade crossings and 64 were killed in this manner. Forty-four were killed at crossings other than grade crossings and one outsider met death on a station platform.

Out of the 894 passengers hurt, 386 were injured in collisions; 125 in getting on or off cars; while 385 were hurt in derailments.

Trespassers, struck by trains, but not fatally hurt, numbered 88, and 26 of them were hurt by jumping from the trains. At grade crossings 137 persons, neither passengers nor trespassers, were hurt, while 294 were hit at places other than grade crossings.

The figures of the railroad commission are doubly interesting when coupled with the attempt made by Senator Walter Taylor, of Kalamazoo, to have all trespassers on railroad tracks declared criminals.

Body of Dr. Steele Found.
Grand Rapids—The body of Dr. Ira D. Steele of Chicago, brother of Dr. S. N. Steele of Muskegon, who has been missing since March 24, was found Friday afternoon in a woods near Muskegon. An examination showed that Dr. Steele had died of heart trouble.

Dr. Steele mysteriously disappeared from Muskegon after starting out alone on a fishing trip. No explanation as to the reason for his disappearance could be made, until the discovery of the body.

To Put Lid On Divorces.

Battle Creek—Many imperfect marriage unions will have to continue to exist in Calhoun county, at least during Circuit Judge Walter H. North's regime, for he announced Saturday that hereafter he will grant no divorces unless one of the contesting parties can show himself or herself free from blame.

In giving his decision, Judge North said he finds some couples take less time getting mated than a man takes to buy an automobile.

COMMANDER OF LUSITANIA TELLS OF CATASTROPHE

Turner Says That But One Torpedo Struck Liner, But That It Pierced Vital Spot

JURY CHARGES GERMANY WITH WHOLESALE MURDER

Experts Declare That Second Explosion Heard By Passengers Was An Internal One and Many Passengers Were Killed By Fumes.

London—Captain Turner of the Cunard liner, Lusitania, which was sunk last Friday off Old Head of Kinsale by a German submarine, testified before the coroner on Monday that the ship was struck by only one torpedo. But this deadly missile found a vital spot and sent the liner to the bottom in less than 20 minutes, carrying with her more than 1,000 souls.

At the conclusion of his testimony the jury brought in the following verdict:

"We find that the deceased met death from prolonged immersion and exhaustion in the sea eight miles south southwest of Old Head of Kinsale, Friday, May 7, 1915, owing to the sinking of the Lusitania by torpedoes fired by a German submarine."

"We find that this appalling crime was committed contrary to international law and the conventions of all civilized nations."

"We also charge the officers of said submarine and the emperor and government of Germany under whose orders they acted, with the crime of wholesale murder before the tribunal of the civilized world."

"We desire to express sincere condolences and sympathy with the relatives of the deceased, the Cunard company and the United States, many of whose citizens perished in this murderous attack on an unarmed liner."

Captain Turner, in declaring that one torpedo did all the damage said the second explosion which the passengers heard was an internal one, and that the engines, having been put out of commission, it was impossible to stop the Lusitania and permit her boats being lowered properly.

This idea of an internal explosion is supported by naval experts who point out that if the torpedo had exploded on contact the steamer would have only been disabled or had one or two of her compartments flooded.

It is evident, however, they say, that if the torpedo penetrated the hull and the charge of 420 pounds of explosive was detonated it would have created an effect similar to the explosion of a magazine within a ship. There is little wonder therefore, they say, that the Lusitania sank so rapidly or that so many persons were killed by the fumes of the explosive.

Warned By German Embassy.

New York—The Lusitania, with a total of 1,251 passengers aboard, of whom 179 were Americans, and with a crew of 816, sailed from here last Saturday in the face of a warning published on the day of her departure by the German embassy, which stated that travelers intending to embark on British ships did so at the risk of the ship's being destroyed in accordance with the German zone decree.

This warning, published in the form of an advertisement, did not result in the cancellation of a single passage nor did anonymous notes of warning, said to have been received by some passengers just before the big liner left her pier, deter anyone from sailing.

Reports from Washington that it was privately known in official quarters that the Lusitania was to be torpedoed at the first opportunity, gave color to the opinion expressed in shipping circles Friday night that the embassy's warning was intended to apply particularly to the Lusitania.

"Travelers intending to embark on the Atlantic voyage," read the advertisement, "are reminded that a state of war exists between Germany and her allies and Great Britain and her allies; that the zone of war includes the waters adjacent to the British Isles; that, in accordance with formal notice given by the imperial government, vessels flying the flag of Great Britain or any of her allies are liable to destruction in those waters, and that travelers sailing in the war zone on ships of Great Britain or her allies do so at their own risk."

In addition to those on her passenger list, the Lusitania carried 36 who

The trading tug Junior K. was destroyed by fire at midnight while lying at the mouth of the Saginaw river. Carelessness in the handling of gasoline was said to be the cause. One of the crew was burned about the hands. The loss was $1,600, with no insurance.

The Alben Clark debating team, composed of Q. Forrest Walker of Jackson, Halv Brake of Fremont, and Paul Beebe of Ithaca, obtained a decision over the Earlham college debating team at Richmond, Ind.

The announcement has been made that all requirements have been fulfilled for the holding of the 1915 convention of the Michigan State Teachers' association in Saginaw, October 28, 29 and 30. The hotel men have signed a pledge not to raise rates, and a $500 entertainment fund has been raised.

CAPTAIN W. T. TURNER

were to have sailed the same day on the Anchor liner Cameronia, which at the last moment was held in port by orders of the British admiralty, presumably to be sent to Halifax.

The number of persons killed when the ship was sunk numbers about eleven hundred. Of these 115 were American citizens.

The Lusitania's cargo was valued at about $750,000 and contained a large quantity of war supplies. Her manifest included 280,000 pounds of brass and copper wire, $68,000 worth of military goods, and 5,471 cases of ammunition valued at $200,000, all of which was contraband of war.

The ship itself, Cunard officials said Friday, was covered by $5,000,000 war risk insurance.

President to Act Carefully.

Washington—The first word from President Wilson on the sinking of the Lusitania came Saturday night. It amounted to an assurance to the country that the president would deal with the situation deliberately, but with firmness.

This was the statement given out at 9 o'clock by Secretary Tumulty, after a conference with the President at the White House.

"Of course the president feels the distress and the gravity of the situation to the utmost and is considering very earnestly, but very calmly, the right course of action to pursue."

"He knows that the people of the country wish and expect him to act with deliberation as well as with firmness."

To those who are familiar with President Wilson's character of mind and his extreme conservatism as regards foreign affairs, the brief White House statement was significant. The fact that the statement was an acknowledgment that strong pressure already is being felt at the White House from the general public for vigorous action on the Lusitania outrage.

Prominent Americans Are Lost.

Among the well known Americans who lost their lives in the great disaster were Charles Frohman, the New York theatrical producer; Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, the capitalist; Charles Klein, the playwright, and Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Hubbard.

Board of Trade Will Investigate.

London—The British Board of Trade, with the concurrence of the admiralty, has ordered an inquiry into the circumstances attending the loss of the Cunard liner Lusitania, sunk by a German submarine Friday off the Irish coast, with a loss, the latest lists show, of 1,153 lives, 115 of them Americans.

Announcement to this effect was made officially early this evening, after a conference attended by officials of the Board of Trade, the governing body of Great Britain's merchant marine, and the heads of the admiralty.

Lord Mersey, it was announced later, has consented to conduct the inquiry. Lord Mersey conducted the investigations into the sinking of the liners Titanic and the Empress of Ireland and is acknowledged to be one of the world's greatest marine authorities.

Queenstown—The Lusitania cannot possibly be raised, according to the statement of the marine superintendent of the Cunard line Saturday afternoon. She sank in 40 fathoms (240 feet) of water.

London—The Cunard Steamship company announced Saturday afternoon that, despite the destruction of the Lusitania, they were booking the normal number of passengers for America.

Rome, via Paris—Ten persons were killed Thursday night in an explosion which blew up a powder factory at Pontana Liri. The explosion caused a panic in the village and troops intervened to restore order.

Charles Rosenbluh and Albert Fisher, confessed "key burglars," attempted a delivery from the county jail at Saginaw Sunday night. It failed and Rosenbluh was sentenced Monday to five years in Marquette. Fisher has not been sentenced.

The plant of the Portland Manufacturing Co. at Portland was destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning, causing a loss of $40,000, on which there is $10,000 insurance. The plant manufactured washing machine, and a number of men will be cut of employment until it is rebuilt.

Two loads of guests were taken from a wedding in a boarding house in the foreign quarters in Battle Creek and hauled to a police station as the first local option law violators. All were released later, except the proprietor of the boarding house.

GERMANY SENDS NOTE TO AMERICA ON SHIP AFFAIR

Places Responsibility For Loss Of Lives On Attitude Of British

EXPRESSES DEEP REGRET THAT NEUTRALS ARE LOST

Diplomatic Communication Points Out That Submarine Was Justified In Considering Lusitania As An Armed Vessel Carrying Munitions.

Berlin, via London—The following dispatch has been sent by the German foreign office to the German embassy at Washington:

"Please communicate the following to the state department: The German government desires to express its deepest sympathy at the loss of lives on board the Lusitania. The responsibility rests, however, with the British government, which, through its plan of starving the civilian population of Germany, has forced Germany to resort to retaliatory measures."

"In spite of the German offer to stop the submarine war in case the starvation plan was given up, British merchant vessels are being generally armed with guns, and have repeatedly tried to ram submarines, so that a previous search was impossible."

Not Ordinary Merchant Ships.

"They cannot, therefore, be treated as ordinary merchant vessels. A recent declaration made to the British parliament by the parliamentary secretary, in answer to a question by

Berlin Officially Justifies Sinking.

Berlin, via Wireless to London—The following official communication was issued Saturday night:

"The Cunard liner Lusitania was Friday torpedoed by a German submarine and sank."

"The Lusitania was naturally armed with guns, as were recently most of the English mercantile steamers. Moreover, as is well known here, she had large quantities of war material in her cargo."

"Her owners, therefore, knew to what danger the passengers were exposed. They alone bear the responsibility for what has happened."

"Germany, on her part, left nothing undone to repeatedly and strongly warn them. The imperial ambassador in Washington even went so far as to make a public warning, so as to draw attention to this danger. The English press sneered then at the warning and relied on the protection of the British fleet to safeguard Atlantic traffic."

Lord Charles Bessford, said that, at the present, practically all British merchant vessels were armed and provided with hand grenades.

"Besides, it has been openly admitted by the English press that the Lusitania, on previous voyages, repeatedly carried large quantities of war material. On the present voyage the Lusitania carried 5,400 cases of ammunition, while the rest of the cargo also consisted chiefly of contraband."

Regret American Trust.

"If England, after repeated official and unofficial warnings, considered herself able to declare that that boat ran no risk and thus lightly assumed responsibility for the human life on board a steamer, which, owing to its armament and cargo, was liable to destruction, the German government, in spite of its heartfelt sympathy for the loss of Americans, cannot but regret that Americans felt more inclined to trust to English promise rather than to pay attention to the warnings from the German side. (Signed) 'FOREIGN OFFICE.'"

Minneapolis, N. Y.—A verdict of acquittal was returned after a short deliberation late Saturday by the jury trying Mrs. Florence C. Carman on the charge of murdering Mrs. Louise Bailey at Freeport on the night of June 30 last. The jury was agreed on the first ballot and the verdict was returned at 5:32 o'clock, one hour and 12 minutes after the jury had retired.

LETTER FROM STATE CAPITOL

GOVERNOR FERRIS SENDS LETTER TO LEGISLATORS ASKING THEM TO RETURN MAY 20.

SIGNS SOME MORE NEW LAWS

A Mistake in Senate Bill No. 96 Making Appropriation for State Highway Department Must Be Corrected.

[By Gurd M. Hayes.]

Lansing—Governor Ferris has sent out 131 letters urging the members of the legislature to return to Lansing, May 19, the day before the final adjournment of the 1915 legislature and amend the bill making an appropriation for the state highway department so that the money will be available this year.

The letter sent the individual members of the legislature is as follows: "I call your attention to a mistake which occurs in senate bill number 96 file number 69 entitled 'A bill making an appropriation for the state highway department for the payment of the additional state reward on trunk line highways, the building or repairing of bridges on such highways, making necessary repairs on such highways, and paying the salaries and expenses incurred under the provisions of act number 334 of the public acts of 1914, for the fiscal years ending June 30, 1917, and to provide a tax therefor.'"

"In section two of this act it is provided: 'The auditor general shall incorporate in the state tax for the year 1916 the sum of $350,000, and for the year 1917 the sum of $550,000, which amounts when collected shall be credited to the general fund to reimburse the same for the money hereby appropriated.' These years should have been 1915 and 1916, respectively. The appropriation will fall for want of funds unless this mistake is corrected."

"I therefore most respectfully urge you to return at the date to which you adjourned, May 19, at 2 o'clock p. m. in order that this mistake may be corrected."

This is the first time in years that the governor has requested the legislature to return and transact business after the formal suspension of business. If the members return they will have to pay their own railroad fare as they have already received all the mileage that is coming to them for the present session.

When the proposition of asking the lawmakers to return and rectify their error was first suggested to him, Governor Ferris was of the opinion that it was a scheme to pass some of the bills over his veto. While it is possible that this may be done, it is not at all likely. Fifty-one representatives and 17 senators must return in order to have a majority, while two-thirds of the members elect would have to vote as a unit in order to pass any bills over the veto of the chief executive.

In addition to the large number of bills signed by the governor immediately following adjournment of the legislature, he has since signed the following:

Up-to-Date Tailored Gown of Serge

A street suit, cut on conservative lines, which manages to be up to the minute in its style, deserves more than a passing glance. The attractive suit shown here accomplishes these things and compels attention because of its excellence. There is every reason for buying good material in suits that must stand much wear, and every reason to expect them to outlast a single season and come in handy for "knockabout" wear a second season.

In the suit pictured, made of serge, the skirt is moderately wide with the fullness laid in broad plaits at each side. It is a little longer than ankle length and finished with a three-inch hem. It is cut with a high waist line, to be worn without a belt, and is fastened about the hips.

The jacket is cut with straight lines like a box coat and is confined in a high waist line by a narrow belt of the material. The front shows a small cutaway with a little "V"-shaped vest set in, having its point at the bust line. There are no revers, but the neck is finished with a collar of silk, wired to roll gracefully.

The belt fastens with a plain metal buckle and is cut at the front to simulate two little pockets with flap fastenings. These are finished with a small metal button. Three of the same kind of buttons finish the narrow turned-back cuffs that are outlined with a piping of the serge.

When the material for a suit of this kind is bought it is a good idea to buy an extra yard, so that when the time for altering or remodeling comes this will be available for changes in style and the replacing of cuffs, collar or sleeves.

Worn with this comfortable street suit are equally comfortable and smart low shoes over which tan-colored spats appear. In summer weather these are left off. The strictly tailored sailor hat with black crown and sand-colored brim is trimmed with cabochon of banyard straw set over flat loops of ribbon.

Useful Hint.

When a tie or ribbon becomes wrinkled or creased it may in a minute be made as smooth and as fresh as new by slightly dampening the wrinkled spot and then wrapping the tie or ribbon around a clean, lighted electric bulb.

Bonnetlike Hats Popular for Children

Although so great a variety of shapes has been designed for children, those that suggest the bonnet have outdistanced all others in point of popularity. But little variations in shape, and clever new ideas in trimming, save these pretty and childish bits of headwear from becoming monotonous.

Two of the best ideas in trimming are shown in the picture given here. In the bonnet at the left, the crown is sloping, higher at the front, and the brim curves up both at the back and front, suggesting the poke bonnet of blessed memory. It is trimmed with white ribbon having a picot edge in color and buds made of satin, with long stems trimmed in a wreath of effect about the hat. A bow of the ribbon is posed at the front and tucked flat to the crown.

The shape at the right is a familiar "mushroom" model of hump brim pressed with ridges over the crown, extending from front to back and from side to side. These are placed in the shape by way of variety and add nothing to its attraction.

Daisies, June roses and forget-me-nots form a wreath for trimming, and behind each daisy a length of ribbon in brown or some other dark color is folded and sewed to the hat, resting both on the crown and brim.

These shapes come in all colors and are held to the head with elastic cord which is concealed by the hair.

Many of the prettiest hats for mid-summer wear have been made of point d'esprit or plain net shirred over wire frames. Others are net draped over light-colored silk, and fine swiss embroidery is used in the same way. Frills of lace or net made of finer side platings form the brims and fall prettily about the face.

Grapes Are Chic.

As usual in the spring of the year, the fruit of the vine appeals to fashion. Grapes are immensely chic, not only on spring millinery, but in the form of corsage ornaments on evening gowns. A lovely little dance frock of white tulle over silver green pussy willow silk has bunches of pale, translucent grapes on the shoulders and at the girdle. Very smart, on the other hand, is a spring dress of black millian trimmed with black and green grapes and black velvet leaves. With this hat is worn an entirely new veil of sheer black mesh appliqued with green and bronze velvet leaves. The pattern is so delicately applied, and so soft in color that the effect is very beautiful.

Reason for Existence. What do we live for if not to make life less difficult to each other?—George Eliot.

The KITCHEN CABINET

It is when our budding hopes are tipped beyond recovery that we are the most disposed to picture what flowers they might have borne if they had flourished.

It is a melancholy truth that even great men have their poor relations.

HOT BISCUITS.

Those who are able to make good baking powder biscuits have any number of kinds of hot cakes to offer with little extra work. A most delicious pudding of fresh or canned fruit may be made by covering the fruit with a thin crust of baking powder biscuit. Then when served turn upside down, season with nutmeg, add bits of butter and sugar, if needed, and a bird's-nest pudding is ready.

A most delicious hot bread is made by rolling out the dough, spreading with butter and sprinkling with maple sugar grated, roll up and cut in pin wheels, sprinkle with cinnamon and bake. These will delight the little people. Nuts and brown sugar may be substituted for the maple if so desired. Cheese sticks are made in the same way only the dough rolled thin, spread with cheese and cut in narrow strips and baked.

Biscuit mixture mixed, rich and soft, and dropped into greased muffin pans to bake, giving them a nice brown crust with very little inner crumb, are delicious served with honey or with orange marmalade. They may be broken open, buttered and a little marmalade added and then serve with tea.

Nuts added to baking powder mixture, or both nuts and raisins, and baked in a loaf, make most appetizing sandwiches when cut a day old.

Turnover pies of various kinds, using any small bits of left-over fruit, is another use to be made of this mixture. Tartis cut in the old-fashioned way that our grandmothers made them, and filled with a jewel of jelly will delight any palate.

Prunes, figs, dates and raisins added to a loaf of the mixture makes a good fruit bread that is a pleasant change from the everyday kind.

Roll thin like cookies and cut with a cookie cutter, two put together with a filling of cooked dates and baked is another delicious cake.

Cinnamon bars, sugar and butter spread over a thinly rolled baking powder crust, cut in narrow strips and baked makes a nice little cake to serve with a salad or a cup of tea or chocolate.

APPETIZING DISHES.

A hot muffin or gem at breakfast is always a welcome addition to the menu.

Eggless Corn Muffins.—Mix and sift one cupful of granulated corn meal, one half cupful of flour, one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt; then add gradually, while stirring constant, one cupful of milk. Beat one minute and add two tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Bake in a hot oven twenty minutes.

Cucumbers en Surprise.—Wipe and pare long cucumbers cut in halves lengthwise and remove the seeds and some of the pulp. Mix salmon with equal parts of celery and the chopped centers of the cucumbers, season with any desired salad dressing and fill the boats with the mixture. Arrange the cucumbers on a bed of lettuce and serve with the salad dressing.

Raised Croutons.—Mix three and one-half tablespoonfuls of sugar and one teaspoonful of salt, pour on it one cupful of scalded milk, add two tablespoonfuls of lard. When the mixture is lukewarm add one-half a yeast cake which has been softened in two tablespoonfuls of water; add one cupful of flour. Cover and let rise until light, knead and let rise again. Roll out and cut in strips four inches wide and eight inches long. Cover and let rise. Twist four times, pinch ends together, drop in deep fat and when brown, drain and roll in powdered sugar.

Pepper Relish.—Wash and remove the seeds from six red and six green peppers. Add six onions and put all through a meat chopper. Put into a saucepan and cover with boiling water, let stand five minutes; drain and add one cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of salt, and one and a half cupfuls of vinegar. Put over the heat and boil twenty minutes. This will keep and makes a fine relish to serve with meats or fish.

SPRING DISHES.

As the first spring greens appear, they should be served daily in some form. The first tender shoots of dandelion make a most appetizing salad. Wash and pick them over carefully and cut fine. As many of the little white buds as you can find should be added. Mince a small green onion and serve all well mixed with a good French dressing. Chives, chervil, borage, sorrel, cress, pepper grass and mustard are all such good salad greens and may be used in combination with lettuce as salads.

A shredded green pepper adds much to the flavor of any salad as well as its appearance.

Make nests of curly endive and arrange balls of cream cheese rolled in chopped nuts. Add any preferred salad dressing.

Baked Bananas.—Remove the peeling from a half dozen bananas. Scrape to remove all of the coarse threads and lay in a well-buttered baking dish. Grate the rind of an orange and a half a lemon, mix together the juice of a half a lemon and the juice of an orange and half the lemon and three-fourths of a cupful of sugar. Pour over the bananas, dot with two tablespoonfuls of butter and bake until the bananas are tender.

Potato Salad.—To a quart of cold cooked potatoes cut in cubes; chop the half a green pepper, two tablespoonfuls of chives, five olives, two tablespoonfuls of capers, all finely chopped. Add to the potato with half a cupful of shredded almonds or the same of fresh grated coconut, six tablespoonfuls of oil, a small green onion, chopped, and half a cupful of minced parsley, a teaspoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar and a few dashes of cayenne pepper. Mix and heap in a mound. Serve on lettuce leaves.

It is not work, but friction, that wears out the machine, and that is even more true of the human machine than of any other.

MEATLESS DISHES.

Vegetarian dishes, if the combinations are nutritious, are desirable not only as meatless dishes but add variety to the menu.

Macaroni and Peanut Butter.—Cook macaroni in boiling salted water, drain and pour over a quart of cold water which keeps the macaroni from sticking together, put into a buttered baking dish and cover with a white sauce made of three and a half tablespoonfuls of peanut butter, two of flour, blended together, two cupfuls of milk, season with salt and pepper and pour over the macaroni. Cover and bake half an hour, then cover with buttered crumbs and brown. A little grated cheese may be added just before the coating of crumbs is added if so desired.

Beets With Spinach.—Pick over and wash half a peck of spinach. Cook uncovered with boiling salted water in which a third of a teaspoonful of soda and a teaspoonful of sugar has been added. When tender drain and chop, and add three tablespoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful of flour and one-half cupful of cream. Reheat and pack into a border mold and let stand in a pan of hot water to keep warm. Serve with well-buttered beets in the center; garnish the platter with hard cooked eggs, cut in eighths lengthwise. The color is especially pleasing and the combination is also good.

Rice Croquettes.—Pick over a half cupful of rice, cover with cold water and stand over night. Drain, pour over a half cupful of boiling water and cook in a double boiler until the rice has absorbed all the water; then add one and a quarter cupfuls of milk, three tablespoonfuls of cream, two tablespoonfuls of canned red peppers, salt and pepper to taste. Turn on a shallow plate to cool. Shape, dip in egg crumbs and fry in deep fat. Serve with cheese sauce.

Cheese Sauce.—Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add four of flour, and one and a half cupfuls of milk, cook until smooth, season with salt, and cayenne and add half a cupful of soft cheese cut in small pieces. Stir until the cheese melts.

Wife—No, I don't.

RAILROAD TUNNEL THROUGH MOUNTAIN

Building the Bridge to Island Mountain Tunnel; the River Takes Eight Miles to Get to the Other Side of the Mountain While the Tunnel Goes Through in 4,300 Feet.

A curious phase of railroad construction is the Island mountain tunnel on a railroad just built in California. This mountain gets its name from the fact that it is almost entirely encircled by a river which takes eight miles to go from one side of the mountain to the other. By means of the tunnel the railroad gets through to the other side in 4,300 feet. The bridge over the river extends up to the precipitous face of the mountain so that a train passes directly from the bridge into the tunnel. Engineers regard the work as a triumph of railroad building.—Popular Mechanics.

RECORD OF PROGRESS

LOCOMOTIVE DEVELOPMENT IS SHOWN IN MUSEUM.

Series of Models Going Back to the Earliest Idea of Steam Propulsion.—Trevithick's Engine Also in the Collection.

Probably no museum collection in the world better illustrates the development of the steam engine, particularly the locomotive, than the exhibit of the United States National museum at Washington, which includes two of the earliest original locomotives and numerous models and accessories.

The museum possesses a model of a very early machine designed by Sir Isaac Newton in 1680, which was propelled by a jet of steam projected backward against the air, and a model of Denis Papin's invention of about the same time. The investigations of Savery and Papin and the successful experimental engine of Thomas Newcomen in 1705, with its piston and cylinder, soon followed. Newcomen's ideas were improved by James Watt in 1769, who also introduced the high pressure engine, the condenser, and later the double acting engine. The development of the engine was advanced by Cugnot, Evans, Hornblower and Murdoch. A model of the latter's engine is on display in the museum.

As the result of a wager made by a resident of Merhyr-Tydvil, an important town of South Wales, that he could convey a load of iron nine miles by the power of steam alone, Richard Trevithick made the first engine to run on rails in 1803 and won the wager for his employer the next year. Trevithick, it has been claimed, copied the stationary engine built in 1800 by Oliver Evans, an American, who was later ingenious enough to attach wheels to a scow and propel it by steam through the streets of Philadelphia in 1804. This curious creation, called the "Orukto Amphibolus," was the first motor car to run on American soil.

A model of Trevithick's engine is to be seen in the National museum, as is also the model of the engine employed by John Stevens in 1825, and his original tubular boiler. Other models illustrate nearly all the types which began to put in their appearance soon after 1828, when the "Stourbridge Lion" was built in England and shipped to America, where it was the first engine to run on full sized rails. The museum possesses not only the model of this historic engine, but the original engine itself. The other original full sized locomotive to be seen in the museum is the "John Bull," built by George Stephenson & Son of England and shipped to America for use in 1831 on the Camden & Amboy railroad. It is interesting to recall that this old relic of early railroading in America made a round trip under its own steam in 1863 from New York to Chicago, where it was exhibited at the World's Columbian exposition.

Among the models of early and historic locomotives are: George Stephenson's "Rocket," built in 1829; the B. & O. engine, "Tom Thumb," built by Peter Cooper in 1829; the grasshopper type engine, "Arabian," 1831; the "Best Friend," used in 1830-31; Baldwin's "Old Ironsides," constructed in 1832; the "Sandusky," constructed in 1837; and models of engines made by Asa Whitehead in 1840 and G. A. Nicholls in 1848. Besides the two locomotives and the numerous engine models, there are in the exhibit, its coach and car models, sections of rails, spikes, wheels and models and parts of valves, pistons and other patented accessories pertaining to locomotives and railroads, all of which go far toward completing an absorbing chapter of graphic history in connection with this interesting and important commercial development.

Not a Flattering Comparison.

One passenger was killed for each 4,900,000 passengers carried by the railroads of the United States during last year. Comparing these figures with the standard of safety set by Great Britain, the rate of casualty in that country is less than one-fourteenth as great as that in the United States.

Felt Washers Need Replacing.

In a great many wheel bearings there are felt washers, even though they may not be plainly apparent. Because they are put there to keep the lubricant in and the dirt out, care should be taken to see that they are replaced if it becomes necessary to remove a wheel for any cause.

ENGINE WIPING AS A CAREER

Chinaman Long at the Work Lives in State in China on Pension From Railroad.

Chin Sney got into one of the papers out West the other day. Chin Sney is not exactly known to the New York papers, but a friend of the Office Window's, who knew him well has sent in the little tribute to Chin which the western paper published. Who is Chin Sney? Nobody but an engine wiper on the Salt Lake and Sacramento divisions of the Central Pacific railroad. For twenty-seven years people saw old Chin Sney coming and going out there, wiping engines, and it seemed after a while as if the railroad could not run without him. Some of the old engineers got to thinking that an engine would hardly go if Chin did not wipe it.

But after his twenty-seven years of service the Central Pacific retired Chin Sney on a pension, whereupon he packed up his kit and went to China. He is now seventy years of age, and every month the pension department of the Central Pacific sends a remittance to him in care of On Yick, Sam Hop, Sun Ning District, Canton, China, and Chin lives on the pension like a magnate.

Chin's record of service, however, was long since beaten by Ah Nen, also an engine wiper, at Montello, on the Central Pacific, who has been forty-nine years in continuous service, and still polishes up the engines so careful that they are thinking of making him the president of the road. —New York Mail.

Making Trains Talk.

The advance which has been made by American scientists in the practical application of wireless is illustrated in the successful use of wireless train dispatching upon the Lackawanna railroad, which has recently been carrying on extensive experiments in this direction.

Stations equipped with Marconi apparatus have been established at Hoboken, Scranton, Binghamton and Buffalo, four of the larger cities along the line of the railroad. The apparatus on trains is similar in operation and principle to that of the fixed stations, although of lower capacity. The motor generator on the train is operated from the car-lighting generator.

A moving train can hold continuous communication with a fixed station at a distance of 30 miles. The aerial on the train is formed of phosphor bronze wire rectangles, one on the roof of each of the four forward cars, with link connections between the cars.

Mail-Carrying Fifty Years Ago.

The Santa Fe trains carry the mails to Atchison, Kan., regularly and peacefully these days. But fifty years ago, before the railroad had crossed the prairie, the mail arrived at Atchison at long intervals and under difficulties. In the Atchison Champion of March 25, 1865, was published the following: "The Santa Fe mail is due. The last mail was followed for 100 miles by a band of Arapahoes and Cheyennes. At the crossing of Cimarrone, which was made in the night, the passengers could distinctly hear a large war party singing and dancing. Parties of hostile Indians were heard of after passing the Cimarrone, evidently intending to form a junction with the band spoken of. If these vagabonds should combine there will be a general war on the plains."

He Paid His Fare.

The chairman of a certain great railroad company recently chided a ticket examiner who went by him without looking at his pass.

"No matter if you do know who I am," said he, in reply to the examiner's excuse; "I am entitled to a free ride only when I am traveling with that pass. You don't know whether I have it or not."

The man, a little nettled, then demanded to see the pass.

"That's right!" exclaimed the worthy chairman; "here—why—where—well, I declare! I must have left it at the office."

"Then you'll have to pay your fare," said the examiner, firmly.

And He Did.

Pleasant to take, handy to carry, fits the vest pocket.

Peace Day Proclamation.

Peace on earth, good will to men, is fundamental and imperative in every civilization that calls itself Christian. War is a confession of weakness, at best a necessary evil. It is not yet a thing of the past because brute instincts that should be regulated and directed are allowed to run riot. War is a destroyer; peace is a builder. There never has been a war in which selfishness was not the direct or indirect cause. It therefore follows that armament does not prevent war; standing armies and great navies do not prevent war. Preparation suggests war. Teach men the arts of peace, train men in the arts of peace, and war will disappear from the face of the earth. Temper, unregulated, is the vice of vices. It takes more courage to meet the requirements of peace than war. Few men are great enough to be always kind, always just, always patient. Most men find it easy to be ugly, hateful and devilish.

This year of all years in the history of the world commands us to be men, to be great in the arts of peace, to know the sacredness of life. War means the destruction of fatherhood and motherhood; the destruction of home; the perpetuation of poverty; hell on earth.

We now spend $290,000,000 a year on "preparedness for war." Isn't this the time to spend one per cent. of this amount on the preparedness for peace?

Therefore, I, Woodbridge N. Ferris, ask that the people of Michigan set apart Tuesday, May eighteen, as Peace day. Let the Grand Army of the Republic, the Spanish-American War Veterans, the Woman's Relief Corps, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Sunday Schools, the churches, the fraternal organizations and the people generally, hold such exercises as will stir the emotions of love and good will towards all men.

WOODBRIDGE N. FERRIS, Governor.

COLEMAN C. VAUGHAN,
Secretary of State.

Why, Jeff!

Jeff Livingston, who, in spite of the fact that he is the president of the great Snider Preserve Company and a millionaire, is as democratic as his first name, was once a poor boy and wore his rags and patches with the rest of the "kids". Jeff occasionally finds time to indulge in a little literary work and his most recent effusion is founded upon an incident in his early career. Here it is:

Two ladies met a boy one day; his legs were bare scratch-d.

His clothes were blue, but a nut-brown hue marked the place where his pants were patched.

They bubbled with joy at the blue-clad boy with his spot of nut-brown hue.

"Why didn't you patch with a color to match?" they chuckle-d. "Why not with blue?"

"Come, don't be coy, my blue-brown boy, speak out!" and they laughed with glee.

And he blushed rose-red, while he bashfully said: "That ain't no patch; that's me!"

Best Thing for a Bilious Attack.

"On account of my confinement in the printing office I have for years been a chronic sufferer from indigestion and liver trouble. A few weeks ago I had an attack that was so severe that I was not able to go to the case for two days. Failing to get any relief from any other treatment, I took three of Chamberlain's Tablets and the next day I felt like a new man," writes H. C. Bailey, Editor Carolina News, Chapin, S. C. ## I Remember.

I remember, I remember the house where I was born, the little window where the sun came peeping in at morn. You'd hardly know the old place now, for Dad is up-to-date and the farm is scientific from the back lot to the gate. The house and lawn are lighted with bright acetylene, the engine in the laundry is run by gasoline; we have silos, we have autos, we have dynamos and things, a telephone for gossip and a phonograph that sings. The hired man has left us—we miss his homely face—a lot of college graduates are working in his place. There's an engineer, a fireman, a chauffeur and a vet., electrician and mechanic. Oh, the farm's run right, you bet. The little window where the sun came peeping in at morn now brightens up a bath room that cost Dad a car of corn. Our milkmaid is pneumatic and she's sanitary too, but Dad gets fifteen cents a quart for milk that once brought two. Our cattle came from Jersey and the hogs are all Duroc, the sheep are Southdown beauties and the hogs are Plymouth Rock. To have the best of everything, that is our aim and plan, for Dad not only farms it, but he's a business man.—E. F. McIntyre.

How Mrs. Harrod Got Rid of Her Stomach Trouble.

"I suffered with stomach trouble for years, and tried everything I heard of, but the only relief I got was temporary until last spring I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them at our drug store. I got immediate relief from that dreadful heaviness after eating and from pain in the stomach," writes Mrs. Linda Harrod, Fort Wayne, Ind. Obtainable everywhere. Adv.
